laughter rolling softly through grass,

vibrating harmoniously through the soul of our campus

Pioneer Acts As Disapproving Voice

The Post Pioneer appeared on campus this year in the image of a snarling wildcat. Administrators of the College trembled, much as those who were the targets of the Russian purge, for fear that Editor Anthony Toscano would direct his sharp wit toward them. They need not have feared, for the Pioneer was intent upon starting its revolution at the top: The Office of the Chancellor! Such "Literary Masterpieces as "The Post Hole" were eagerly followed by those attempting to join the smartest circles, while less interested individuals preferred to translate the editorials. Turning to the SGA for guidance, the newspaper involved itself in a "... never-ending battle for Truth, Justice and The American Way." Unfortunately, it never made it to the telephone booth.

Freshman Key

The Freshman Key is the official handbook of C.W. Post College. It is distributed to all Freshman during Orientation Week and contains information about the college ranging from rules of the college, to Who's Who and places of interest on Long Island. It becomes the most used and sought after literary edition the school provides to the Freshman, the reason being that they must carry it at all times during Orientation Week. Designed to acquaint Freshman with C.W. Post, the Key truly fulfills its job.

Little Review

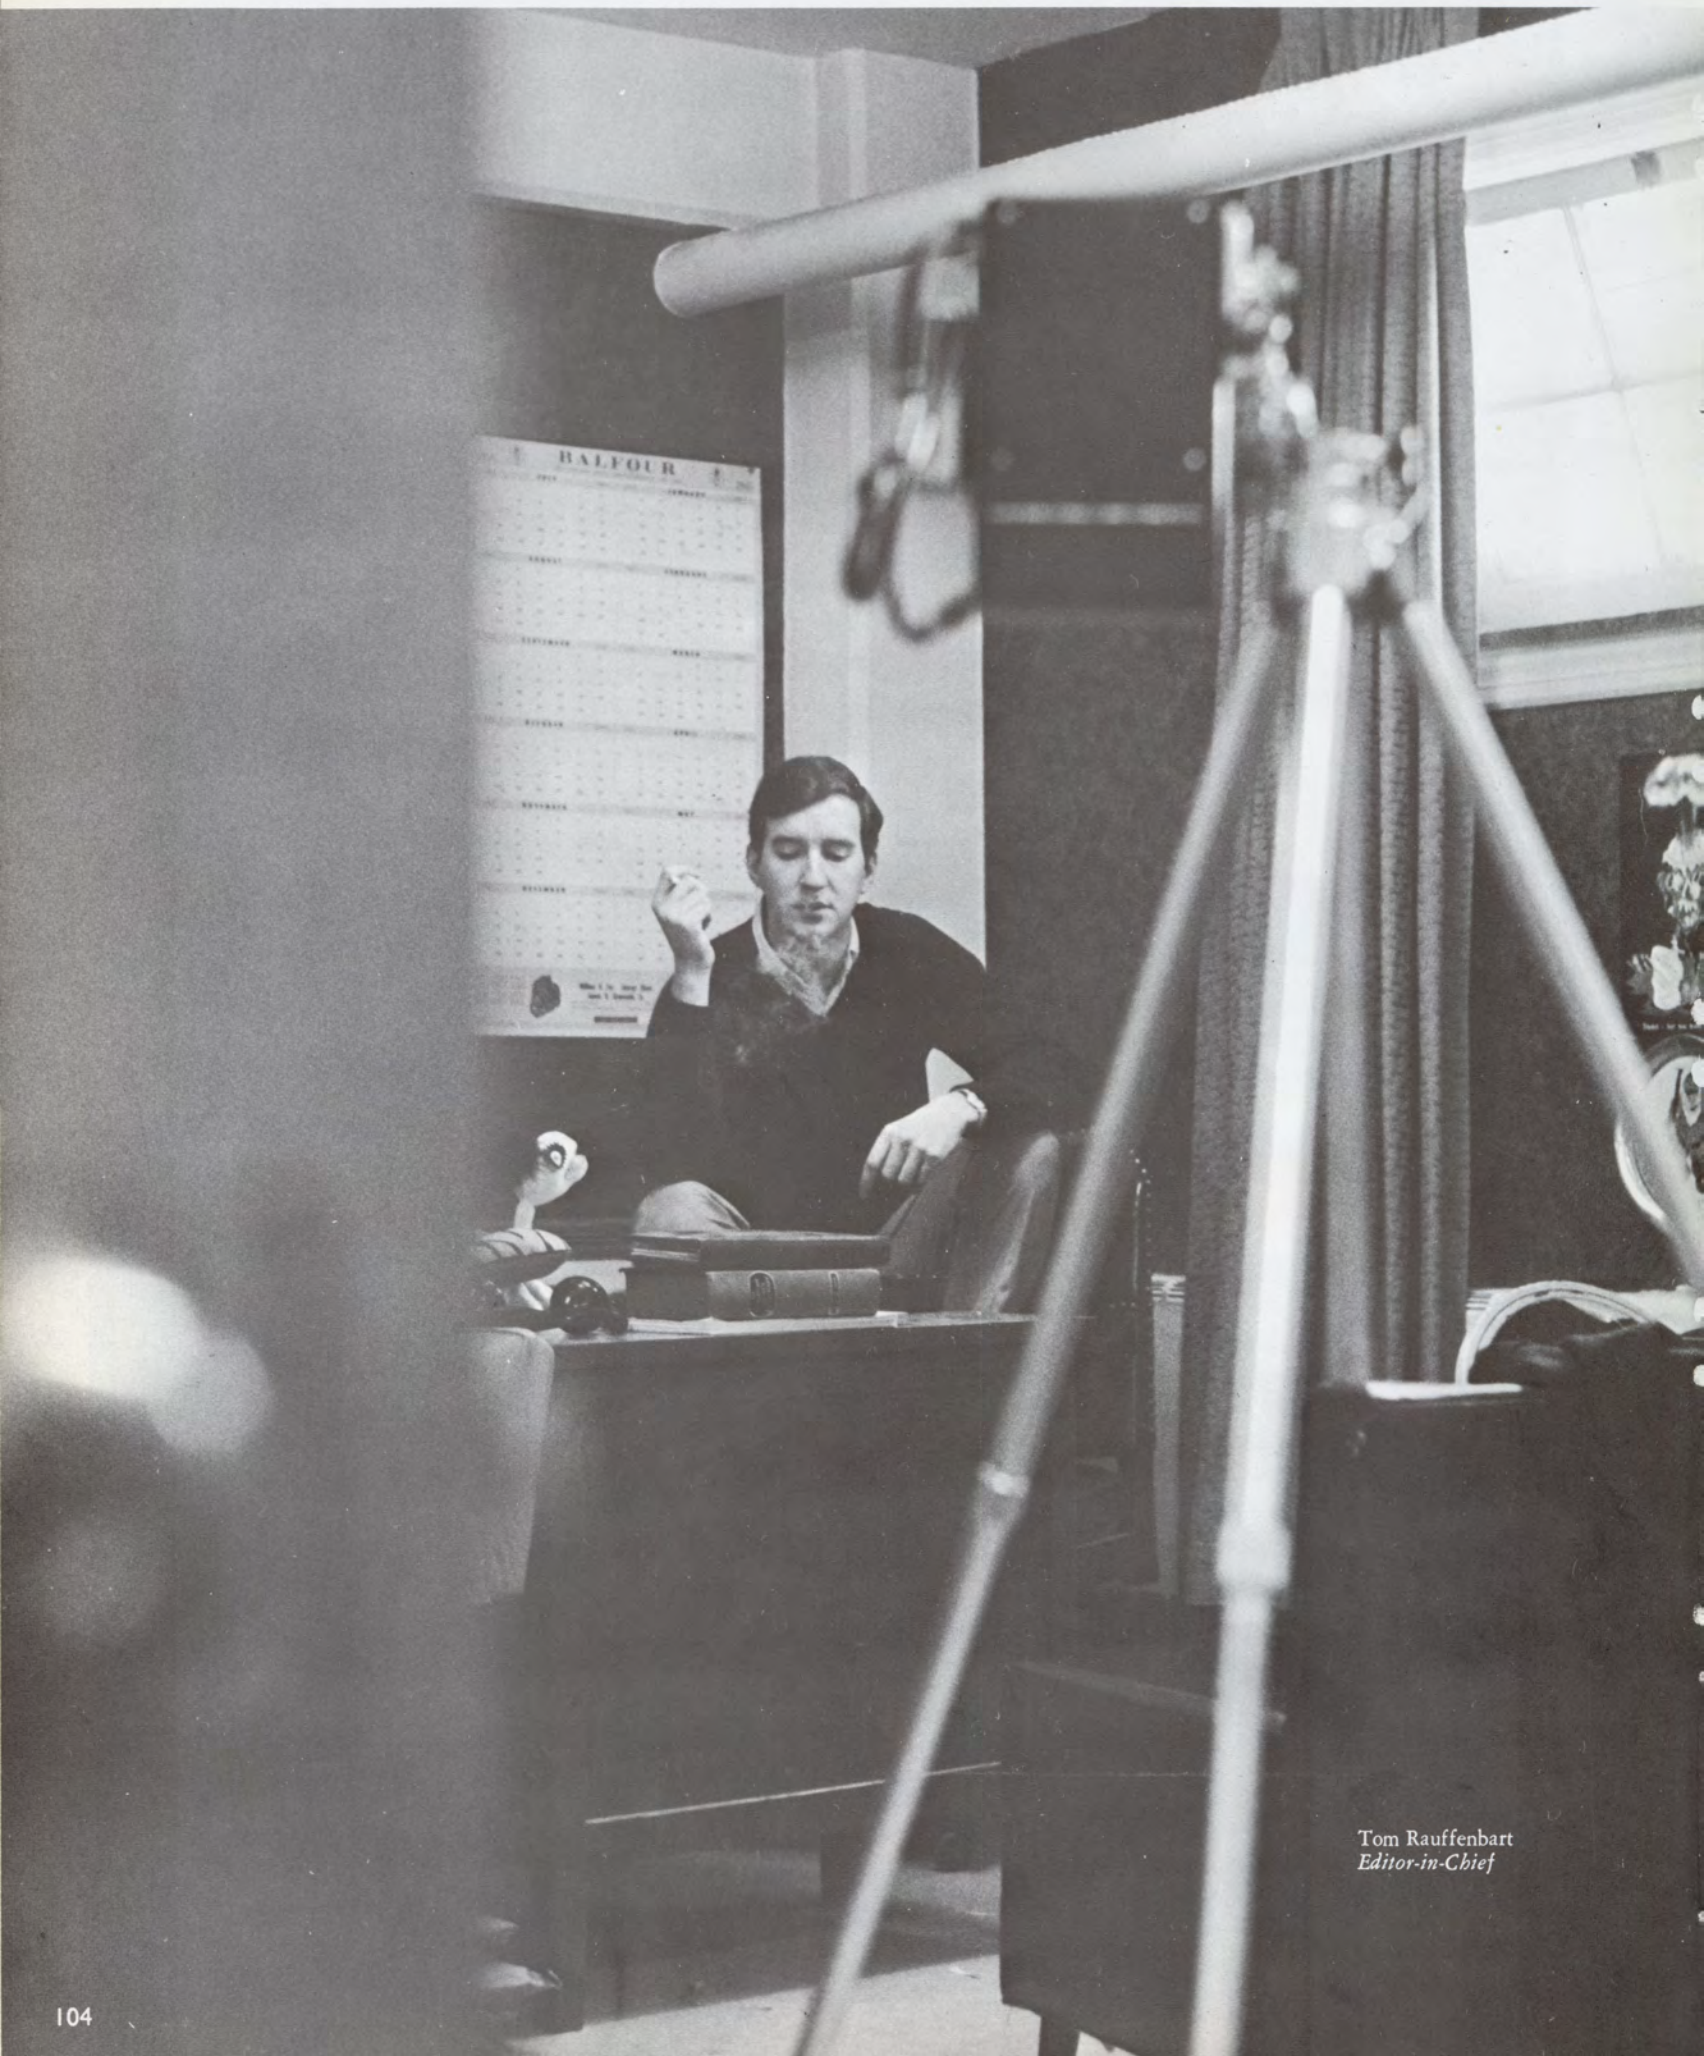

Little Review Presents Original Work

As the official literary magazine of C.W. Post College, the Little Review has the difficult task of selecting the best of all original work which they receive. It presents not only poetry and prose, but also criticism, artwork and photography.

As diligently as the Little Review staff may work, they are often hampered by the fact that their efforts may only be as good as the best material from which they may choose. Perhaps that is why it often lacks the punch necessary to be effective.

Panhellenic Council is the governing and co-ordinating organization of all sororities. Our college Panhellenic is part of the National Panhellenic Conference which is a co-operating organization, established "to maintain on a high plane of fraternity life and inter-fraternity relationship, to co-operate with college authorities in their effort to maintain high scholarship and social standards throughout the whole college and to be a forum for the discussion of questions of interest to the college and fraternity world."

C. W. Post College Panhellenic is composed of five sororities. Aside from rushing, Panhellenic's other functions include social teas, the awarding of a plaque to the sorority with the highest academic average for the year, and a Panhellenic Greek Sing, which was originated by Sigma Delta Tau.
